USING THE LATEST SOFTWARE, FREEDOM IN NUMBERS OFFER THEIR CLIENTS DIRECT ACCESS WHERE AND WHEN THEY NEED IT.

Freedom in Numbers has flourished since its inception in July 2017, continuing to grow and develop a brilliant reputation as a small business with big ambitions. They've even won the title of Best Accountancy Practice at the Yorkshire & Humber Enterprise Awards 2018.

Founder Hannah Adams has a wealth of experience behind her, starting in the finance industry at 18 years old and having worked in Sheffield practices for around 13 years. Following the birth of her second child, Hannah couldn't see herself returning to full-time work, and thus her third child, Freedom in Numbers, was born.

"The name 'Freedom in Numbers' came from a vision of an accounting and business growth support service that gave our customers freedom from numbers yet left them sufficiently in touch with them, to make the right business decisions based on quality care and support from a qualified and experienced advisor."

Where traditional accountancy firms tend to focus on the compliance side of things, Freedom in Numbers want to provide a better, more personable service and offer their clients direct access to information where and when they need it.

Freedom in Numbers use Xero, an online accountancy software that makes accessing your information easier, and therefore allows you to spend your time catering to your business needs and growth plans, rather than spending countless hours on business admin.

Freedom in Numbers process your receipts and invoices, then store them on the cloud for you and feed them straight into Xero so that no matter where in the world you are or what time it is, you have direct access to your business financial information – all you need to do is snap a picture of your invoice or receipt and send it their way.

By using technology like Xero in their business, Freedom in Numbers are allowing you the freedom to keep up to date with your business position rather than waiting for a monthly or annual summary. Their daily bookkeeping service means that you are able to have access to accurate, to the minute information which will help you keep on top of your business.

Seeing themselves as a supportive partner to their clients, Freedom in Numbers provide a one to one, face to face service; they're not just a call centre or a name on the end of an email but a business who really pride themselves on the way they interact with their clients.

"We like our clients to see us as approachable, friendly and someone they can feel relaxed and comfortable around, and we encourage everyone we work with to embrace this approach," said Hannah.

Often working with new businesses, Freedom in Numbers want to offer support that may not be available at larger accountancy companies. Businesses often fail within their first two years of operation, so Freedom in Numbers are there to help you make smarter decisions and give you any extra support you may need. And as a successful new business themselves, they know what's needed to get over the hump.
